A Toast

The editor of this paper knows of nothing that the weekly news letters written for it by its contributors, no weekly ever received the increment of a daily paper into its field so long as it carries a full coverage of local county news.
No advertiser ever bought space so valuable as that which appears in the columns of this paper. And a word should be said now and then for the people who serve in the news of their community to the local paper. Our own correspondents, they are leaders in their communities. In their ranks may be found the genuine folks who are back of every worthwhile movement for community good. And when they sit down and write the happenings of the week in their locality, they are rendering a real public service. It is surprising to find how many of our average weekly newspaper and see the long list of folks who used to write the news of their home county and now that they have moved away keep in touch with the old home county by reading the county's paper.
This paper can name faithful county correspondents who have served it loyally for almost 40 years. And the editor awaits their weekly letters with the greatest expectancy. He knows that the subscribers of what's going on in the locality. So here's a toast to those veterans of journalism—the county community correspondents.

EXAMINATIONS FOR TRUST INSTITUTIONS

New Move by Federal Banking Authorities Welcomed by Banks and Trust Companies, Says Bankers' Organization

FEDERAL examination of trust departments is the latest development in banking supervision and trust companies and banks operating trust departments are welcoming this development because it fills a long-felt want, it is stated by the Trust Division of the American Bankers Association. Despite the growing importance of American trust business in recent years examining officials have never given to trust departments the attention paid to commercial banking departments, this authority points out. Now the Federal Reserve System, in conjunction with the Comptroller of the Currency, has decided to bring the examination of trust departments up to the level of commercial bank examinations, it was stated.

Feels a Lot Better When Black-Draught Relieves Constipation

From many states come reports like the following from Mr. W. M. Henderson, of Jasper, Fla.: "I have been taking Black-Draught for many years. It is a relief to me. After a few doses, I feel as good as new. I keep it in my home. I have a big family. When one of us is afflicted with constipation, we take Black-Draught and almost always feel a lot better. It has been worth the weight in gold to my family." Sold in 25¢ packages. "Children like the Syrup."

Printers have a just complaint against the government pertaining to the new printer's code. The government has set up a price list and now tells all printing shops what they are to charge for all their work. And here's the part that is grossly unfair: the government sets a price that we are forced to get for printing envelopes, and then, through the post-office department, offers to print envelopes for about half that price!

Government competition with private business is bad enough, but to dictate a price for private business that is twice what the government pays, just irks our editorial team no end. The only recourse we have is to lay the cards on the table and ask public support.

Congressional bill would cut tax on tobacco 40 per cent. Hopes are that it will increase consumption and thus meet for farmer's aid.
